What can you expect at the study center?

The London Study Center is located in a 5-story Georgian building, within walking distance to restaurants, cafes, and famous landmarks.

The study center is not a typical college campus like what you may be used to in the U.S., but a large building housing classrooms, student social space, and staff offices. There are not many campus universities in London, so as you journey to and from the center, the experience is much like any other student in London.

The Study Center is open M-F, opening hours will depend on your course schedule. Vertoans should be prepared to study in public libraries, cafes, or at home outside of opening hours.

Very quickly, the center will become a home away from home; where you can chat with staff, take your classes, study in between classes, and socialize with other participants.

What amenities are available?

Services and amenities include:
- Unlimited Wi-Fi throughout the building
- A table tennis table

- Student fridge and microwave
- Library resources
- Postal facilities
- Quiet space
- Social areas
- Student life and travel information
- Staff office, open Monday to Friday.

What is the layout of the study center?

You will enter the building and walk into a ground floor hallway leading to a reception area and staff offices. You can then either walk downstairs or upstairs to access classrooms and a student social space. As you continue on each floor, you will pass our classrooms, faculty offices, further quiet study space, advising rooms, and restrooms. Your dedicated Care Team Leader works at the center and will be available at all times the center is open.

How do I get to the study center?

From your accommodations, catch either the Number 1 or 24 bus to the London Study Center - this is a journey of approximately 20-40 minutes. You may also take the tube from Kentish or Camden Town tube stops to Tottenham Court Road on the Northern Line; a journey of 20-25 minutes.

What can you expect at Angle Education Services (AES)?

Students at AES's Richbell House study centre in central London can look forward to a modern, purpose-built learning environment. Opened in January 2020, the centre features nine versatile teaching and meeting rooms (accommodating between 10 and 60 delegates), all enhanced by high-speed Wi-Fi, interactive screens with built-in computers, and air-conditioned, naturally lit spaces. A fully staffed reception, flexible room layouts (including theatre, U-shape, classroom, cabaret, and boardroom), and nearby transport links complete the professional setup for lectures, seminars, guest talks or workshops.

What can you expect at the off-site Wet Lab location?

Students based in Canary Wharf STEM lab can expect access to world-class, fully serviced laboratory and teaching environments designed to support both research and collaboration. The London Innovation Centre at 20 Water Street (opened in mid-2023) offers flexible CL2 wet-lab spaces, alongside fitted office space, breakout areas, and meeting rooms. Together, these facilities offer students and early-stage science ventures a scalable, high-tech and community-focused environment within London's rapidly expanding life-sciences hub.

Check out some photos of the center. We can't wait to see you there!
